CONSTITUTIONAL FORCES IN COMPLETE CONTROL, SULTAN PRISONER IN PALACE

Formal Submission Not Yet Given—Troops at Mercy of Army of Occupation; Commander-in-Chief Desiring to Avoid Further Bloodshed Extends Period of Grace
Within Which Sultan Must Make Final Decision—Yildiz Kiosk May Be Rushed During Night—Disposition of Ruler by Con-stitutionalists Unknown to Embassies

Constantinople, April 24.—The constitutional forces are in complete control of the capital tonight. The sultan is practically a prisoner in the Yildiz palace. His formal submission has not yet been given but he and the troops with him are at the mercy of the army of occupation.

Mahmoud Scheffer Pasha, the commander in chief of the invading forces desires to finish the work without further bloodshed. He is in negotiation with the Sultan's representatives and has extended the period of grace within which the Sultan must make his final decision. Although the Yildiz Kiosk may be rushed during the night, for some five thousand infantry are disposed within a mile and a half of the palace.

What disposition will be made of the ruler of the empire when he is in the hands of the constitutionalists is unknown to the embassies, although the opinion is held in authoritative quarters that he will continue as the nominal constitutional executive, largely responsible to the cabinet, who in turn will be responsible to parliament.

Complete tranquility prevails in the city at present, but anxious looks are cast in the direction of the Yildiz, the refusal of part of its garrison to submit being the serious feature of the situation. General Scheffer is concentrating large forces near this point. Troops have been pouring in since noon and several batteries have been planted in the neighboring heights, but it is feared that the task of capturing this well guarded stronghold may be extremely difficult, owing to its excellent defensive position and the thorough preparedness of the garrison.

The other positions already captured by the invading army were not provided with artillery, which gave the assailants an immense advantage since they were able to shell the barracks without reply from artillery. The Yildiz garrison not only possesses artillery, but it is believed that the neighborhood is mined. Apparently General Scheffer and the other leaders of the Saloniki troops are anxious to avoid further bloodshed, hence their desire to give the sultan and his advisors ample time for consideration.

The sending forward of the advance posts of the Saloniki army yesterday afternoon to within two and one half miles of the palace foreshadowed the attack on the city that began at 5 o'clock this morning. The bridges had been picketed and small parties of cavalry reconnoitered the ground. After desultory fire, just before dawn, a striking advance was made in the southwest part of Pera. The attacking forces spread out in a long line and made an assault on the Matchka and Tasch Kischla barracks, south of the palace, where they met with a stubborn resistance.

The invaders continued to advance in three columns with the utmost precision and occupied all points of vantage. The volunteers from Ghevegi received their baptism of fire from Matchka, but they stood their ground well and repelled with steady volleys. The strength of the volunteers was overwhelming and the Matchka garrison soon surrendered.

Almost immediately the local soldiers in the Tasch Kischla barracks, on the opposite hill opened a deadly fire, but notwithstanding that many of them fell, the Saloniki troops did not hesitate in their advance, but moved slowly and cautiously, bringing up their machine guns, which eventually resulted in silencing the garrison. There were heavy losses on both sides. While this attack was proceeding, another corps of Saloniki infantry encountered a sudden attack from the artillerymen in the Tasch barracks, but these were only supplied with rifles.

Mukhtar Bey, of the Saloniki forces fell dead and many were killed or wounded on the first assault.

The fighting in the Stamboul quarters occurred at the porte, where the garrison refused to surrender, but after a sharp fusillade, they were obliged to hoist the white flag. There was still fighting at the Iplik Hanch barracks, but after a sharp fusillade they were quieted.

The number of casualties probably will never be known but it is estimated far into the thousands. Around the Tasch barracks alone, it is believed that one thousand or more fell. The private houses with the line of fire suffered greatly. One of the heaviest losses to the parliamentary forces occurred through the misuse of the white flag. For more than an hour the machine guns of the attacking party poured a hail of shots into the garrison and then the defenders hoisted the white flag. Infantry moved forward in the open and the gun fire was suspended. When these battalions were within four hundred yards of the barracks, the guns behind the walls opened up a deadly fire on them, 27 being killed and 80 wounded.

In one quarter some 6000 or 7000 troops were engaged in the conflict, but with the terrific exchange of shots few non-combatants were killed. Half the Saloniki chassateurs, who were brought from the country districts several months ago and placed in the Yildiz garrison by the Committee of Union and Progress and who took a prominent part in the recent mutiny fell fighting in or near the barracks where they murdered most of the officers only ten days ago. In the pockets of some of the dead were found large sums of money in gold which it is assumed was part of the price of their loyalty.

The ambassador, Mr. Leishman, declared that the conduct of the Americans during the fighting and while he was arranging to send them off on a steamer, was splendid. They displayed the greatest interest in the battle. There was no fainting and no hysterics.

At noon the battle ceased and precautionary measures were immediately taken by the victors to insure the safety of the residents.

No disorders of any kind occurred during the afternoon and no looting was reported. General satisfaction seemed to be felt at the swift change from uncertainty to Constitutional order.

Should the sultan remain in office, it will merely be in a nominal way. His allowance restricted, and he will have no means for further agitation should his mind turn again in this direction. It is credibly reported that the sultan has distributed within recent days, two million pounds, Turkish, to the troops.

The question of his disposition of his execution can hardly be considered a possibility. He has been tried and is true, and condemned in the committee of union and progress as a traitor. It is authoritatively stated that he will be allowed to remain where he is for the present.

street. W. F. Dunn and others on the sidewalk, who witnessed the affair, ran to his assistance with his son, and picked up his unconscious form and carried him to his home where he remained most of the time unconscious until his death, which occurred at 3:30 this morning. Dr. Pyne was summoned immediately after the accident and did all possible for his relief. The old gentleman was badly bruised all over his body, and there was a deep cut in his face. His death is supposed to have been due to concussion of the brain.

SECRETARY TO THE ENGLISH EMBASSY REPORTED KILLED

Berlin, April 24.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger telegraphs that a number of Europeans were injured in the fighting. It was reported that the correspondent of the London Times was killed at the Tasch barracks, where the Sultan's troops put up a strong resistance. This statement could not be verified, and it was said later that the man killed was an American sight-seer. The Dragoman of the Australian embassy was wounded, and it is reported that a secretary attached to the English embassy was killed.

The correspondent says also that the Yildiz garrison has surrendered to the Saloniki army.

ESTIMATE OF NUMBER KILLED

Conservatively Placed at About Thirty Thousand,
Messenger Killed

Beirut, Asiatic Turkey, April 24.—A conservative estimate of the number of killed in the Armenian massacre in Adana, is at from 20,000 to 30,000. At Adana more than 100 girls are missing. It is known that 21 native pastors have been killed. Fears are entertained that other American missionaries than those whose deaths have been reported have been murdered.

There are 15,000 refugees in Adana and Tarsus and 5,000 at Mersina. Marash and Antav are quiet, but conditions at Hadjin are becoming critical. A messenger dispatched for relief by Miss Lambert, the American missionary, who two days ago sent an appeal to Constantinople, has been killed in the streets. A second messenger, a soldier, was shot at. The conditions at Alexandretta are unchanged. Ballan and Doryle are holding out. An appeal for help has been issued from Latakia as the mob is nearing that city and American property is threatened. Antioch is quiet, there being no Armenians left in that town. No disturbances have occurred in Beirut tonight.

STODDARD THE AUTHOR DIES IN MONTEREY

Monterey, April 24.—Charles Warren Stoddard, poet, author, traveler and lecturer, is dead at his residence in this city after an illness extending over a period of three months. Death was directly due to heart trouble which had confined Mr. Stoddard to his bed for the past five weeks. At the time of his death, he had passed his sixty-fifth year.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., Mr. Stoddard was educated in the schools of New York and California. He was awarded degrees by Santa Clara college and the University of California together with the honorary recognition of other institutions, including the Catholic university of America. He was appointed to the chair of English literature in the latter institution in 1889 and during the preceding held the same chair in the University of Notre Dame, Ind.

He was best known through a series of books dealing with his travels over the world, undertaken as correspondent for a San Francisco daily. Among his works are "South Sea Idylls," "The Leper of Molokai," "Father Damien, a sketch," "The Wonder Worker of Padua," "Marshallam," "A Cruise from Suez to San Marco," "In the Footsteps of the Padres," and "The Dream Lady."

A sister, Mrs. S. A. Makee, resides in Switzerland and two brothers, Frederick C. and Samuel Burr Stoddard, are residents of California.

PRISONER IN BOX CAR FOR FIVE DAYS

White Plains, N. Y., April 24.—John Taylor, a 12-year-old boy, crawled into a box car at Northampton, Penn., last Monday to take a nap. When he awoke, the car, which was loaded with cement, was on a New York firm, was moving and the door was locked. As a policeman was passing the car here yesterday he heard moans and when the door was forced open he found Taylor almost dead from starvation. He was cared for by the police and will recover.

EASTERNERS WIN TWO RACES

In National Relay Championship at Annual Carnival of Sports

Philadelphia, April 24.—Eastern athletes took two of the three national relay championship races today at the annual carnival of sports on Franklin field.

Chicago captured the one mile blue ribbon event, Yale won the two mile relay championship and Pennsylvania won the four mile race from the Chicagoan university. The freshman championship was won by Princeton. Lawrenceville, N. J., academy was first in the preparatory school relay national championship and the national relay championship for high schools was won by the Brooklyn Manual Training high school.

Two records were broken. Yale in winning the two mile race, reduced the collegiate record to 8:02.25. The high school record of 2:22.15, held by the Brooklyn M. T. school, was reduced 2-5 of a second by the same institution.

Fast time was made in other relay races. In the final of the 120 yards hurdle, Shaw of Dartmouth covered the distance in only one-fifth of a second slower than the world's record of 15.3.

The weather was perfect and 15,000 persons were present. There were fully 1,500 entrants, about 200 educational institutions being represented. Michigan has won the four mile relay race six times, straight, always in easy fashion. This year, however, Pennsylvania won the race. In the first mile, Beck of Pennsylvania, gave Lovlie, the second Pennsylvania runner, a lead of nearly 50 yards. The latter held it until the last quarter of the second mile, when West of Michigan, passed him and gave May, the third Michigan runner, a lead of 40 yards. May increased this to 50 yards when he turned the race over to Dull, the Michigan star. William Paul had been picked to make the running for Pennsylvania on the last relay. Dull started off at a fast clip, but Paul, running strong, caught and passed him and won easily the relay and the race. Dull was beaten by about 75 yards. Paul ran a magnificent race, the time for his mile being 44:28.

The one mile championship was a hot race down the stretch between Chicago, Michigan, Harvard and Illinois, and it was not decided until the tape was stretched. Chicago won by a few feet from Michigan, with Illinois third.

Princeton and Yale were regarded as fast in the two mile race that none of the entrants came to the scratch when the race was called. Yale held the lead on the first two relays, lost it on the third and regained it in the stretch on the last leg and won by ten yards.

CORRESPONDENT OF NEW YORK SUN IS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

London, April 24.—A special dispatch from Constantinople says: "Two lookers were killed during the struggle, one of whom is believed to be a British subject. The fight raged almost in the heart of the European quarter. Frederick Moore, correspondent of the New York Sun, was seriously wounded while taking snap shots of the fighting soldiers, who evidently mistaking his camera for a weapon, fired upon him.

Mr. Moore for several months had the distinction of being one of the correspondents near the scene of activity in Turkey. He represented several English and American papers and recently published a book on Morocco. He was formerly connected with the London bureau of the Associated Press. His wife is with him in Constantinople.

CRUISERS ARRIVE AT SAN PEDRO

Los Angeles, April 24.—At 8 o'clock tomorrow morning the Japanese cruisers Aso and Soya, in command of Rear Admiral H. Ichihi, will arrive at San Pedro to remain three days.

A delegation of Los Angeles officials and citizens headed by General Frank Prescott, will board the flagship of Admiral Ichihi tomorrow forenoon and extend a hearty welcome to the officers and men of the Japanese ships. Among the delegation will be many members of the local Japanese colony. Inasmuch as this is the first visit of a Japanese warship to American shores since the American fleet of battleships visited Japanese ports and was given such a great reception, it is the intention of the committee in charge of arrangements to make the entertainment of the Japanese sailors as pleasant as possible.

There will be a banquet to the officers Tuesday night, following a trip by trolley through the orange groves of Southern California that afternoon.

JAPANESE POTATO KING TO GIVE LABORERS A TRIP

Stockton Cal., April 24.—George Shima, the Japanese potato king, who recently purchased a fine residence in Berkeley, is planning to give 100 or more of his Japanese laborers a trip to San Francisco, while the emperor's cruisers are there and will dress them in new business suits for the occasion. The laborers will be given a steamboat trip to the bay city at Shima's expense. Their outing will cost Shima $2,000.

HELENA WINS ON MUDDY FIELD

OVER COLORED AGGREGATION BY SCORE 7 TO 4.

Exciting Game Predicted for Today, Langford, the Shifty Pitcher, Ex- pected to do Some Swift Work

Owing to the soggy condition of the diamond at the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon, the ball game between the Helena team and the Occidentals was played under difficulties. The rain of the night before so dampened the grounds that in places it was quite out of the question for the ball twirlers to play fast ball yesterday. Langford, the noted colored pitcher, who claims to have a mark of a few seconds under ten in a hundred yard sprint, went across the line between first and second base like a mud turtle and would not have landed safely on second had not the ball been knocked a long way out into the field by the gun comes out clear and bright this morning the grounds will be in fine condition for the game this afternoon.

There were but a few fans out to see the game yesterday, due, no doubt to the inclemency of the weather of the night before. Everybody seemed to think that the game could not be played on the grounds because of the mud, but the lads got out and did the best they could under unfavorable conditions. Up to the sixth inning it looked like a "shut out" for the colored team, but they made a run in that inning which gave them a little encouragement; then two lemons came knocking, but in the last inning they made three runs, leaving the score 7 to 4 in favor of the Helena team.

It is said by the baseball fans that today's game will be different. Langford, the swift and shifty pitcher among the colored gentlemen, will appear in the box for the Occidentals, and it is quite certain that the Montana lads will be kept guessing as to where they are at.

The line up in the game yesterday was as follows:

Helena Occidentals
D. Thomas catch. Langley
Stis 1st b. Gans
Wessler 2nd b. Middleton
Morse 3rd b. Lawrence

Helena 1 0 0 1 4 0 0 7

SHRUBB IS ONCE MORE WINNER

Slow Time Made--St. Yves
Unable to Make Him Do
His Best

New York, April 24.—Alfred Shrubb of Horsham, England, once more proved himself the greatest middle distance runner in the business by defeating St. Yves of France, at the American league grounds tonight. At no time was the result in doubt. When 8 miles had been covered, Shrubb had a lead of two laps and this seemed to content him for he ran the rest of the race at St. Yves' side. During the last two miles of the race St. Yves made frantic efforts to overtake his rival, but to no avail.

Shrubb's time for the race, 1 hour, 26 minutes and 12 seconds, was over 4 minutes behind the professional record and nearly 6 minutes behind the amateur mark. This slow time was due to the fact that the Frenchman could not make him do his best during the last half of the race.

The American League Park was fairly well filled despite a cold wind that made it rather uncomfortable for the spectators. The lighting arrangements were good.

St. Yves was the first of the starters to appear on the track, but he preceded Shrubb by only a moment, the latter sprinting by the Frenchman and reaching the starting point first. The men were off with a burst of speed at 9:02 p. m.

Shrubb started with his usual graceful stride while St. Yves went off at the short pattering which served him so well in the Marathon derby.

In the first lap, Shrubb opened up a lead of about 20 yards and increased this gradually as the race progressed. In the fourth lap St. Yves showed more speed, but Shrubb increased his pace so that at the end of the sixth lap or the finish of the first mile, he was a quarter of a lap in front. The time for the mile was 4:54. As the race progressed Shrubb perceptibly widened the gap between himself and his rival. The second mile, finished in 10:14, found him nearly half a lap in the lead.

Shrubb finished the third mile in 15:32, the fourth in 20:56 and the fifth in 26:23. He gained a full lap near the end of the fourth mile and then for a time the men ran shoulder to shoulder, but the Briton quickened his pace and again began to draw away from St. Yves. The Englishman finished the sixth mile in 31:36. He was then a lap and a half to the good. St. Yves, early in the seventh mile, started to spurt. He diminished Shrubb's lead, but with his machine-like stride, Shrubb after a couple of laps, again drew away from the Frenchman. The finish of the seventh mile found him nearly two full laps in the rear. The seven miles were done in 37:29, more than two minutes ahead of the record Shrubb established in his race with Longboat.

Shrubb finished the eighth mile in 43:19, still running beside his opponent. The next mile was a sort of incident. Shrubb finished the nine miles in 49:23. Still running at St. Yves' side, Shrubb finished the ten miles in 55:39. Despite this excellent performance, the crowd cried to him to come on faster and win the watch offered for lowering the mile record. Shrubb, content to hold his established lead of two laps, ran beside the Frenchman during the next three miles. His time for 11 miles was 1:01:12, for 12 miles 1:08:03, and for 13 miles 1:14:15.

St. Yves sprinted again during the fourteenth mile with the forlorn hope apparently of testing his competitor. In a brief time, he drew away and had a lead of 20 yards, but Shrubb soon caught him. Shrubb finished the fourteenth mile in 1:20:17.

Further sprinting in the last mile by the Frenchman reduced Shrubb's lead to 1:12 laps, but when the gun was fired for the last lap, Shrubb showed that he had plenty in reserve by regaining half of his loss. He finished the race in 1:26:12 with a lead of 1:34 laps. St. Yves' time for the 15 miles was 1:27:58.
